Akron Man Found Guilty of Robbing Woman at Gunpoint

AKRON, Ohio (Friday, May 22, 2015) – Summit County Prosecutor Sherri Bevan Walsh announced today that jurors found Deandre Scott, 26, of Akron, guilty of robbing a woman in her home at gunpoint.

Scott was convicted of the following charges:

- Aggravated Burglary – a felony of the first degree
- Aggravated Robbery with firearm specification – a felony of the first degree
- Gross Sexual Imposition – a felony of the fourth degree

On December 16, 2014, Scott forced his way into a home on Douglas Street in Akron. Scott pulled a gun on the victim and led her around the home looking for items to steal. Scott eventually took the victim to a bedroom where he pushed her on a bed and inappropriately touched her. Scott then stole $5,000 and an iPad.

Summit County Common Pleas Court Judge Christine Croce will sentence Scott on Wednesday, May 27, 2015 at 9am.
